

I would like you to know that you think you can control the USA minds, however, all of us living on the boarder of Canada know the truth. If your intent is to control minds, it might work for awile, but America is not stupid, and we are proud. It's time to be fair with the people who are locked into the middle of the country and are caught up in all the lies. These are my fellow Americans, and making fools out of them is not the American way. Where is your Patriotism anyway.
